

Buckeye Chapter INS and ThriveRx Presents Venous Access Complications in Home Parenteral Nutrition

Presented by
Donna Kloth RN, CRNI
Past President Buckeye Chapter INS

Developed collaboratively by clinicians experienced in clinical and home nutrition support, Venous Access Complications in Home Parenteral Nutrition is a continuing education program. Attending clinicians and certified case managers are eligible for continuing education credits upon successful completion of the program.

The program includes information on:

- Types of IV access in Parenteral Nutrition Therapy
- Complications associated with central lines
- Etiology of line infections (CRBSIs) and most common pathogens responsible
- Types of IV caps
- Care of central line

March 25th, 2010

6:00pm Registration/Dinner/Networking

6:30pm Presentation

Sponsored in part by ThriveRx/BioRx

Atrium Medical Center

One Medical Center Drive, Franklin

5A & 5C Classroom, Professional Building

From I-75 take the Middletown Exit (Exit 32) and go east onto State Route 122; turn left onto Union Road; at the first light, turn right onto Medical Center Drive; enter through Professional Building entrance and take elevators to 5th floor

Please do not park at the Main Hospital Entrance. Follow signs for the Professional Building and park at the entrance to that building

To Register:

RSVP to Linda Resler
linda_resler@yahoo.com or (937) 470-9058

Cost:

$10 Chapter members
$15 Non-members